The Collingwood Line of screw steamers leave—one every day, from Dousman's dock, foot of East Water st., connecting at Collingwood with cars from the East.

FOR BUFFALO.
Screw steamers, with good accommodations for passengers, leave the different transportation docks every day for Buffalo.

FOR PORT WASHINGTON, &C.
The Steamer Gazelle leaves Johnson & Olmsted's Dock at 8 o'clock in the morning, for Port Washington, Sheboygan, Monitowoc and Two Rivers.

FOR CHICAGO, &C.
The steamer Traveller leaves Johnson & Olmsted's Dock every evening, at 9 o'clock, for Chicago and intermediate ports.

The Grain Trade.

Yesterday was another busy day in the wheat market. Receipts were nearly 40,000 bushels, and shipments, including flour, upwards of 56,000. Prices were firm and a shade higher than the previous day, No. 1 Spring wheat ruling at 73a74c, and Extra Club at 78c. About 1,200 bbls of flour changed hands at a range of $3,50 to $4,25 for common to choice Spring extra. Oats, barley and rye continue firm. The New York market was reported steady and without change, and the Buffalo market firm, wheat scarce.

Douglas Dissected.

The Richmond Enquirer contains a scathing review of DOUGLAS' essay, having by permission of the Harpers published it in full. It denies the soundness of all his positions; says no courts can be or ever have been established in Territories except by the Constitution of the United States; denies that Congress can delegate legislative power which is does not possess; denies that Congress can confer judicial powers, and says it can only institute courts in pursuance of the Constitution; says that GOV. WISE has already on former occasions refuted DOUGLAS' Colonial argument; contends that Judge TANEY's decision in the Dred Scott case is directly opposed to the doctrine of Territorial sovereignty, and denies that the compromise measures of 1850, the Kansas-Nebraska Act, or the Cincinnati platform sustain any such doctrine. It concludes as follows:

Keeping in mind these points, thus hastily enumerated, the veriest tyro can easily confute the entire argument by which Senator DOUGLAS attempts to disseminate the opinion that a Territorial Legislature may legally and Constitutionally deprive slave holders of equal rights on the soil of the Territory common to all citizens of the Union. Mr. DOUGLAS' essay can be regarded in no other light than as an incendiary document, calculated to produce nothing less than a repetition of the anarchy and bloodshhed which has lately disgraced the soil of the territories.

The article is three columns long and is attributed to GOV. WISE.

A Timely Warning.

The Madison Patriot, central organ of our Wisconsin Democracy, thus notifies the German, Norwegian and Dutch papers in our State, that it proposes to appropriate to itself all "the printing in foreign languages," hitherto distributed among the presses of these different nationalities:

> We wish it distinctly understood that the law puts "all the printing for which the State may become liable to pay" in the contract, and that we were required to furnish specimens for such printing, and that these specimens were placed in the office of the Secretary of State, were accepted on the part of the State, as a part of the contract, and that we are entitled to every dime's worth of that kind of printing, and we shall test our rights in the matter, by injunction on the very first effort being made to give that printing to any one else.

The Patriot, which just now lords it over the Democratic party, intends its German and Norwegian contemporaries to understand by the above, that they cannot come in for any share of the expected "spoils," next Winter. This offers them an inducement to "go in and win"—for the exclusive benefit of the Patriot.

A HARD MASTER.—The Madison Patriot says:—"Really, Schurz had two friends to Randall's one in the Convention, if left to their own choice individually.—But Know Nothingism is a hard master. We know of a Know Nothing who personally hates Randall as he does a snake, and yet the ukase of the Order brought him to Randall's support, on pain of expulsion."

This is one of the ghost stories that such papers as the News and Patriot are fond of trotting out on the eve of every election.—"Know Nothingism" in this State never amounted to "shucks," and the organization is long since defunct. That a foolish prejudice exists among a few American-born citizens, against voting for "foreigners," is unhappily true, but the feeling is exceedingly limited, fast dying out and common to all parties. It is the duty of every good citizen and every influential newspaper to combat this prejudice and try to remove all distinctions between native and foreign-born. Demagogues only and reckless partisan priests seek to inflame national prejudices and keep up national distinctions, for the mere hope of political advantage. They should be sternly rebuked by native and adopted citizens alike.

WE UNDERSTAND from Hon. A. B. F. HILDRETH, of Iowa, a member of the Republican State Central Committee, of that State, that not only will CARL SCHURZ aid the Republicans there, in their present political canvass, but Senator DOOLITTLE will also visit the northern portion of Iowa, previous to meeting his engagements in Minnesota. He will set out the latter part of this month, and after speaking at Janesville and Monroe, will step over to Iowa, at Dubuque, and address mass conventions at that place and at McGregor, West Union, St. Charles City, and perhaps some other places, and then proceed to Minnesota.

LEAVENWORTH ELECTION.—The result of the election in Leavenworth City last Monday was a draw game. The Democrats elected their candidate for Mayor by a few votes. The Republicans secured six of the twelve Councilmen, City Marshal, Recorder and Treasurer. The Democrats elected five of the Councilmen (one being in doubt,) and the City Clerk.

At the election in June the Democrats carried the city by over 400 majority.

POLITICAL APPOINTMENTS.—The appointments for our Republican candidates will be announced in a day, or two. They intend to canvass the State thoroughly and to talk to the people wherever they go. Let the voters be warned out to hear them, when they come.

WHY should our doctors form themselves into a regiment of heavy dragoons? Because they are splendid fellows for charging.

The San Juan Imbroglio.

Our California files bring us a full account of the occupancy of the Island of San Juan, at the mouth of Puget Sound, by Gen. HARNEY, and the difficulties arising therefrom with the British authorities. The disputed territory is the largest of the Aroo group of islands, but nevertheless is of inconsiderable size, and is situated between the British island of Vancouver and the United States Territory of Washington. It is claimed by both the United States and Great Britain, under the Oregon boundary treaty of 1850, the misunderstanding arising from the indefinite wording of that document. The dividing line between the possessions of the two countries was to run midway through the main channel, between Vancouver's Island and the main land. But as there happens to be several channels, two of which claim the superior designation of "main," each country has, of course, interpreted the treaty as referring to that particular "channel" which would give it the largest amount of territory.

According to his understanding of the matter, General HARNEY appears to have taken upon himself the responsibility of occupying the island with a detachment of troops from the Utah army as "territory of the United States." This coup d'etat of the American General created quite a sensation in the adjacent British Possessions, and Governor DOUGLASS, of British Columbia, immediately issued a protest against the occupation of the island by the Americans, declaring it to belong to her Majesty Queen Victoria, and also sent a message to the Vancouver Legislative Assembly, stating that "on being informed of the landing of United States troops at San Juan, Her Majesty's ship Tribune, under the command of Capt. HORNBY, was dispatched to that quarter, and soon after a detachment of Royal Engineers, and Royal Marine Light Infantry, were ordered from New Westminster, by Her Majesty's ship Plumper, Capt. RICHARDS, and that those troops would be landed at San Juan to protect the lives and property of British subjects."

A correspondent of the San Francisco Times, writing from Vancouver's Island, takes quite a war-like view of the affair, but rather predicts that Uncle Sam will "back out," because the disputed territory is not in the right direction to be worth fighting for.—In regard to the feeling at Victoria after the arrival of the information that a company of American troops had seized the island, the writer alluded to says:

> Very soon, vessels for the conveyance of passengers to the seat of war were in demand. Small boats were chartered for the trip, and several steamboats departed with visitors, both English and American, to the island of San Juan, a distance of fifteen or twenty miles from this place. Two of the English vessels of war from Esquimault harbor, had gone over on the first reception of the news. Most of those who went to the island did so, perhaps, through curiosity; but others, no doubt, went determined to lend a hand to their respective countries, if their services were needed. In the harbor of San Juan were found, besides several British men-of-war, the U. S. ships Massachusetts, Shubrick, and a revenue cutter from Puget Sound. A company of American soldiers, to the number of forty or fifty, had taken possession of the island, and quite boldly indicated their intention to keep it, as will be seen by the following order, which was posted in various places about the island:
>
> MILITARY POST, SAN JUAN ISLAND,
> W. T., July 27th.
> [ORDERS, NO. 1.]
>
> 1. In compliance with orders and instructions from the General Commanding, a Military Post will be established on this Island, on whatever site the Commanding officer may select.
>
> 2. All the inhabitants of the Island are requested to report at once to the Commanding Officer, in case of any incursions of the Northern Indians—so that he may take such steps as he may deem necessary to prevent any future occurrence of the same.
>
> 3. This being United States Territory no Laws, other than those of the United States, nor Courts, except such as are held by virtue of said laws, will be recognized or allowed on this Island.
>
> By order of CAPTAIN PICKEY.
> JAMES W. FORSYTH,
> 2d Lieut. 9th Infantry, Post Adjutant.

The American forces on the Island had been re-inforced by a couple of companies from Fort Billingham, and a large number of Americans had gone over from Washington Territory and Vancouver's Island, with the avowed intention of settling on San Juan. A British vessel brought some forces from Fraser River and requested to land them, but was boldly refused by the Captain in command of the U. S. troops. Matters stood in this billigerent state at the latest advices. We do not, however, apprehend that anything more serious than a diplomatic war will result from the dispute over this insignificant speck of territory.

A special dispatch from Washington to the New York Tribune thus alludes to this affair:

> The points of the controversy between us and Great Britain, so far as Gen. Harney's course in Oregon is concerned, are stated in a trustworthy quarter as follows: That the island of San Juan, east of the old recognized channel of Haro, has been occupied as a sort of a common ground by Americans, and by a party of the British Hudson's Bay Company, which Company has now no legal existence. That some difference has arisen between the above named parties, and that, at the request of the Americans, Gen. Harney has interposed, with a small number of troops, to decide a matter that properly pertains to the jurisdiction of the British and American Commissioners now on the ground, or near it, who are charged with the duty of running the boundary line. It is not supposed that anything like hostilities will grow out of this affair. But it seems we have now assumed the strong position usually taken by the British; we have occupied a territory in dispute as a preliminary to negotiations.

THE ARMY OF VISITORS AT THE FALLS THIS SEASON.—The Niagara City Herald publishes the following table of the total footings of the arrivals during the season, at the various hotels at the Falls. The footing for the Clifton House, it says, includes June, July, and two days in August, the remainder not being sent over. The arrivals at the other houses have been published pretty regular, except the Niagara House, which includes less than sixty days. With this explanation it gives the footings from May 31st to August 30th inclusive:

International	9,829
Cataract House	7,087
Clifton House	3,993
American Hotel	2,228
Falls Hotel	1,232
Franklin House	1,000
Niagara House	921
Mansion House	817
Monteagle—Suspension Bridge	2,482
N. Y. Central House—Sus. Bridge	2,098
Total	32,581

Of this number 8,507 were published in June, 12,040 in July, and 12,034 in August. Were we, it remarks, to add the arrivals at some three or four of our smaller hotels, and several boarding houses, and others not published, and also make a reasonable estimate for September, (a better month than June) the aggregate would no doubt reach as high as 50,000.

The arrivals at Saratoga, as published, amounted this season to a little over 23,000, and the total estimate of visitors is 35,000. Niagara Falls, it will be seen, is a long way ahead as a popular and fashionable resort.

The San Juan Difficulty.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9—8 P. M.

The Washington correspondent of the Herald says that the North-Western difficulty will doubtless become a matter for negotiation between the Governments of Great Britain and that of the United States, as the treaty settling the boundary has no provisions for the settlement in such a case as has arisen.—The State Department has had the matter under consideration, and Gen. Harney will receive instructions to act with great caution until the Governments have compared views on the subject.

Our City Population.

In reply to the card of Mr. WALL, in the Sentinel of yesterday, Mr. SEGER sends us the following comparative statement, by Wards, of the population of this City, as shown by the School Census of 1857 and 1859:

Wards.	1857.	1859.
First Ward	4,455	7,125
Second do	5,214	5,566
Third do	7,414	6,151
Fourth do	5,012	5,220
Fifth do	4,395	5,063
Sixth do	4,195	5,065
Seventh do	5,567	5,796
Eighth do	2,788	3,783
Ninth do	5,502	[illegible]
Total	44,542	51,490

We think that Mr. SEGER's enumeration is substantially accurate. The only Ward, which shows a decrease of population since 1857, is the Third; and one well-known cause of this, is the encroachment of the Lake upon the beach, between the old North pier and the Straight Cut, which has compelled many families to remove to the higher grounds in the First Ward. An increase of seven thousand in two such years as the last have been, is a pretty satisfac'ory sign of the substantial growth and prosperity of our City.

WE NOTICE in looking over the books at the Young Men's Library that an evil—common to large libraries—is creeping in here. We allude to the shameful practice some readers have of marking with a pencil their thoughts on the margin of books. It is notorius that those who are most given to this practice, have the least reason to display their ideas. And even were the emendations of great brilliancy, the next reader will only regard them as superfluous and as evidences of the bad taste, or utter want of taste, in the preceding holder of the work.

Such sentences as the following, which we find in a copy of CAMPBELL, and in the the American Farmer in England, are dictated by a mere wanton spirit of mischief. In the first book, written in a bad hand, we read, adjoining a commonplace couplet, "Sound, old fellow," and again, "truth, every word of it." In a copy of PRIOR, the most objectionable verse in that poet's collection, bears some clown's endorsement, given with the purpose of rendering the sentiment conspicuous.

Under the able care of Mr. ARNOLD, who is taking measures to prevent this disfigurement if possible, we hope to see it discontinued entirely.

THE FOX LAKE GAZETTE punishes the Sentinel for publishing "Nym Crinkle's" articles. The Gazette, in answer to the charges which our correspondent made, viz: that the leaders of that sheet were written by a lawyer—not the editor—says:

> The Sentinel has given the libel publicity once too often, and if there is any self-respect about it, (the Sentinel,) it will in the future be careful how it repeats the falsehood. Say what you please about us, but let innocent persons alone.

If the lawyer considers himself libelled by the assertion that he writes for the Gazette, we shall, most assuredly, say nothing more about it.

THE U. S. FAIR—STEAMBOATS FOR CHICAGO.—The favorite and substantial steamers Planet and Traveler, will make daily trips between this city and Chicago, during the United States Fair at the latter place, next week. Tickets will be put at half-fare, viz: three dollars for the round trip, to Chicago and back, including berths. The boats will leave each city at 9 o'clock every evening, commencing to-morrow (Sunday) evening.—For passage apply to JOHNSON & OLMSTED, at their dock on the river.

SAD ACCIDENT.—The morning train on the M. & M. road yesterday, when just out of Whitewater, encountered the buggy of a Mrs. JOSLYN, of that place. The vehicle was a top buggy, and the lady being shut up, as it were, did not see the approaching cars. The cow-catcher struck the carriage, completely knocking it to pieces, and inflicting injuries upon the lady from which she died. The collision was unavoidable on the part of the engineer, who was too close upon the buggy to stop or even retard the engine.

AS THE DAYS grow cool, and the nights long, and the fires pleasant, we begin to think of those delicacies belonging to the approaching season, and prominent among them is oysters.

COOK is the agent for Maltby's Baltimore oysters, and he is now receiving a gracious supply—so prepare to swallow, all ye epicures.

FALSE.—The rumor about town last evening that DAVIS' dry goods establishment had closed immediately after that puff from the Wisconsin, turns out to be entirely false. The proprietors of this dry goods establishment have taken every precaution against being "swamped" by the rush, and they will be found at their stand with their new stock ready to de disposed of.

RAIN.—Yesterday about two o'clock the prognostication of the pig was verified. It did rain. Although this last assertion may be doubted by many who were not witnesses of the fact, we pledge our honor that it is strictly true. Let the people rejoice and the City of Bricks be glad.

CARL SCHURZ.—Our distinguished fellow-citizen, CARL SCHURZ, left town yesterday, for Iowa and Minnesota, to lend his powerful aid in behalf of the Republican cause in those two States.

PARK FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.—In another place will be found the advertisement of this Company. It is organized on a sound basis, with a cash capital of $2,000,000. Attention is solicited to the card.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 5, 1859.

REV. E. COOKE, D. D.—Dear Sir:—The undersigned individuals, believing that the repetition of the able and interesting discourse on "The Fruits of Infidelity," recently delivered by yourself in the Summerfield M. E. Church, would be promotive of good by demonstrating the blighting influence of infidel teachings, would respectfully request you to repeat the same at some early day, to be designated by yourself,

Very Respectfully,

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 9th, 1859.

Messrs. G. S. L. Starks, D. T. Brown, W. L. Candee, M. Steever, J. M. Alcott, Nelson Cross and others:

DEAR SIRS:—Your note, requesting the repetition of my lecture, on "the Fruits of Infidelity," has just been placed in my hands. Thanking you for your complimentary request, and hoping that compliance therewith may be, as you say, "productive of good," I would designate Sabbath evening next, the 11th inst., as the time when I will repeat the lecture, in the Summerfield M. E. Church.

Very respectfully, E. COOKE.

THE GREAT EASTERN—GRAND PLEASURE TRIP VIA THE GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY TO PORTLAND.—The Great Eastern steamship—that extraordinary creation of which so much has been said and written—is at length announced in the English papers as on the berth for Portland. She is to leave on the 15th inst., and will probably arrive in Portland, Me., by the 22nd. The Grand Trunk Railway Company, desirous of gratifying the general wish that an opportunity might be offered to greet this monster steamer on her arrival at our shores, have resolved to grant excursion tickets over their road at an unprecedentedly low figure. On reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that the fare hence to Portland, with return tickets, (good for three weeks,) is only fourteen dollars. When the great distance (850 miles) is taken into view, this may be considered the cheapest trip on record. Those who have an eye for the beauties of nature will be able to crowd all the wonders of the St. Lawrence, the romantic scenery of the White Mountains and their first pleasure excursion on the Atlantic, on the largest steamer in the world, into one journey—all for fourteen dollars.—Add to this that this may be the last and only opportunity to some, of standing on the Victoria Bridge, and witnessing the immense labor and skill required in its construction, and we have said all that is necessary by way of inducement to the many who we expect will be numbered amongst the excursionists on this occasion.—Detroit Free Press.

This is certainly one of the most attractive pleasure trips ever announced. We presume that the Detroit and Milwaukee R. R. Company will sell excursion tickets upon corresponding terms with those advertised by the Grand Trunk; so that parties from this city will be able to go to Portland and return for about twenty dollars. We cannot doubt that many of our citizens will avail themselves of this unrivalled opportunity to see two of the "wonders of the world," the Great Eastern steamship and the Victoria Bridge across the St. Lawrence.

GOOD AND CHEAP SOAP.—Mr. R. O. KELLOGG, at 85 Michigan street, is manufacturing an excellent article of Family Soap, under the name of "Kellogg's Chemical Erasive." Many of our best Housekeepers in the city have given it a fair trial and testify to its good qualities. We therefore cheerfully recommend it to the public. Mr. KELLOGG also manufactures a "Cocoa-Nut Oil Soap," of extra quality, as well as many other varieties of Fancy, Toilet and Shaving Soaps. As he is an honest man, families and dealers may rely upon what he says about his soaps.

BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES.—On Monday next, Madame SEIBERT re-opens her English and French boarding and day school for young ladies, at No. 497, Jefferson street. At the same time she will commence a special class for young ladies, wishing to study the French language. Madame SEIBERT is an admirable teacher, and has met with great success in our city, so far as the proficiency of her pupils is concerned, tho' not with the patronage the excellence of her school deserves. Madame SEIBERT, who is a scholar and an artist, gives instruction in German, Music, and Drawing.

PERSONAL.—We were pleased to meet, among the numerous guests at the Newhall, yesterday, E. F. FULLER, Esq., the popular and efficient General Agent of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroads. He is en route for St. Paul.

W. H. WETMORE, Agent for this State, under H. COOK, for the sale of Maltby's celebrated oysters, after an absence of four or five months from this city, has returned to his post. We welcome the return of both the gentlemanly Agent and his bivalves.

NORTHWESTERN INSURANCE COMPANY.—This Company, located in the city of Oswego, New York, has paid losses in this city, since 1850, to the amount of $53,596 21.—Its business has always been prudently managed, and its losses promptly adjusted. It has now a net surplus of $117,748 00, and may be set down, therefore, as an entirely responsible Company. The office in this city is at No. 6 Newhall House, on Michigan St., and the agents are prompt and civil gentlemen. See card of the Northwestern in our advertising columns.

FALL AND WINTER CLOTHING.—SWAIN has arrived with his stock of gents' clothing. Those who are wont to patronize their establishment will know the quality and excellence of their stock without any telling.—Every thing in the way of coats, pants and under garments can be bought now on reasonable terms at SWAIN's store.

FOR THE EAST.—The upper cabin screw steamer Mendota, Capt. SPENCER, leaves the Milwaukee & Mississippi Rail Road dock, this morning at 10 o'clock, for Buffalo and intermediate ports. For passage apply at the company's office, foot of East Water St. GRIFFIN & FLINT, Agents.

SPIRITUALISM.—ELDER WARREN will lecture at Good Templar's Hall, near the Custom House, on Sunday at 3 and 7 1-2 o'clock. Subject, Modern Spiritualism, compared with the Ancient Spiritualism of the Bible. The public are respectfully invited.

NOTICE.—An adjourned meeting of the Milwaukee Citizens' Corps, will be held at their Armory on Saturday evening, 10th inst., at 8 o'clock. Every member is requested to be in attendance. By order,

W. L. HINSDALE, Sec'y.

BAMFORD & BALDWIN, at the M. & M. Depot, keep all Eastern Dailies and Weeklies, Harper's Monthly, the Atlantic and Ballou's. They furnish the latest news ahead of mail, and can supply the SENTINEL to all who desire it.

RENT.—J. S. FILLMORE has a small comfortable house on Division street to rent at $8,00 per month.

Milwaukee.

From our own Correspondent.

GRAND HAVEN, Aug. 30.

A short stay at Grand Haven affords me an opportunity of continuing my remarks upon Milwaukee, which I suspended last night, when about half way across Lake Michigan, in consequence of the peculiar effects which the motion of a ship exerts upon my stomach. I hastily closed up my dispatch, slipped it into the letter box, and sought my state-room in a forlorn and intensely serious condition of mind. On terra firma again, I beg to resume my theme. I was agreeably surprised to observe how orderly and decorous Milwaukee was on Sunday. We have some wild notions of the extreme wickedness of the western cities, in Canada, which were corrected in my mind by what I saw at Milwaukee. Until church-going time the streets were almost deserted. Then streams of well-dressed family groups filled the sidewalks, as they passed to their respective places of worship. Business was suspended. All drinking places seemed to be closed, and nothing which could have offended the most fastidious taste met the eye. Late in the day there was more stir; but still there were no violations of propriety; no noise, no drunkenness.

At a little after 10 o'clock, when I retired, the streets were again deserted. In the German quarter there was music, lager beer, and theatricals; in fact there was a little slice of Old Germany in all its varieties; and in their Gardens was more lager and music, besides dancing and flirting. But this was unobtrusive, and is beyond the reach of authorities. Lest I should appear to paint Milwaukee coleur de rose, let me tell you of its dust, which imparts to the whole city a grey, Quaker-like, neutral tint, and penetrates every pore of the human body exposed to its influence. It is a sharp, aggressive and adhesive dust. I retain much of it yet in my hair, clothes and skin, which has refused hitherto to yield to repeated ablutions. Some one said, with reference to the Hon. Malcolm Cameron, that whatever he might have been when he left Canada, he would at least go back "Gritty." The multitude of billiard tables with which the city is supplied suggests a suspicion that there may be some gambling. In one handsome establishment we saw nine elegant tables, and not one of them was unoccupied.

The most cursory glance at the map will impress your readers more forcibly than words can do with a correct idea of the splendid commercial position which Milwaukee occupies. Behind it the great North West teems with agricultural and mineral wealth. The high rates at which "Milwaukee Club" is quoted in the New York market, is an indication of the capabilities of this fine State. Michigan, one of the most magnificent of the chain of Lakes, bears on her bosom a mercantile marine, which although as yet in its infancy, does credit to the enterprise of the city of Milwaukee. The system of railroads which from the West, North-west, and South-west, converge towards this emporium, places her far ahead of all competitors so far as her trade in those directions extends. And now that the line to Detroit has been completed and the connection formed by such steamers as the Detroit and Milwaukee, her facilities for forwarding or receiving freight from the seaboard are unsurpassed by any State in the Union.

The detour by the Lake to Detroit occupies propellers three or four days in passing from one city to the other; and the advantage of the direct route, in safety, is perhaps of more consequence than its speed. The harbor is accessible at all times; and the new boats are of such capacity that a punctual execution of business may be depended upon. That emigrants will make Milwaukee their great Western point of departure is tolerably clear; and that in many other respects the new route will be a vast advantage to the city, is quite certain.

Milwaukee lies admirably for all the exigencies of civic requirements. Two rivers, both fine streams, afford great conveniences for commerce, and supply a ready means for thorough drainage. Spring water is plentiful and excellent. The proximity of the lake moderates the heat of summer and the cold of winter, and its waters supply the inhabitants with an abundance of beautiful fish.—Canadians could scarcely find a pleasanter place for a holiday. Easily reached, "far west," healthy and beautiful, Wisconsin offers many temptations to the tourist. Taking Milwaukee as the head-quarters, there are few places from whence so many interesting points are within easy access.

We may safely assure visitors from Canada a kind and hospitable reception. The Canadians who were on the recent excursion were treated with marked distinction, and felt much gratified with the city and its people.—Hamilton (Canada) Times, Sept. 6.

CITY AUCTION ROOM.
THIS MORNING I COMMENCE A NEW sett of Advertisements by telling a Frenchman's Want of Confidence. An excellent story is told of a Frenchman who loaned five thousand dollars to a wealthy merchant when the times were good, which happily illustrates the want of confidence and its consequences when the times causes men to fail in business. One day the Frenchman called at the counting-house of the merchant to whom he lent the money, and manifested much agitation. "How do you do?" enquired the merchant. "Sick, ver sick," replied the Frenchman. "What is the matter?" asked the merchant. "De times is de matter." "De times! what disease is that?" "De maladie vat breaks all the merchants ver much." "Ah, the times, eh," replied the merchant, "well they are bad, sure enough; but how do they affect you?" "Vy, monsieur, I lose the confidence in everybody." "Not in me, I hope!" "Pardonnez moi, monsieur, (pardon me, sir,) but I do not know who to trust when all de merchants break several times, all to pieces." "Then I presume you want your money?" "Oui, monsieur, (yes sir,) I starve for want of l'argent," (money) "Can't you do without it?" "No, monsieur, I must have him." "You must?" "Oui monsieur," said the little Frenchman, turning pale with apprehension for the safety of his money. "And can't you do without it?" "No, monsieur, not von leetle moment longare." The merchant took his bank book, drew a check for the amount on the good old Chemical Bank, and handed it to his visitor. "Vat is dis, monsieur?" "A check for five thousand dollars which you loaned me, with the interest." "Is it bon (good)?" said the Frenchman with amazement. "Certainly." "Have you del'argent (the money) in de bank?" "Yes." "And is it perfectly convenient to pay de sum?" "Undoubtedly. What astonishes you?" "Vy, dat you have got him in deese times." "O, yes, I have plenty more. I owe nothing that I cannot pay at a moment's notice." The Frenchman was perplexed, for he did not want the money, now that he found it to be safe in the hands of the merchant he wished him to keep it. Turning to the merchant again he said, "Monsieur, you shall do me one little favor, eh?" "With all my heart." "Vell, Monsieur, you shall keep de money for me some little year longare." "Why, I thought you wanted it." "I no want de l'argent; I vant de grand confidence. Suppose you no got de money, den I vant him ver much. Suppose you got him, den I no vant him at all. Vous comprenez (do you understand)?" After some further conference the little Frenchman prevailed upon the merchant to retain the money, and left the counting house with a light heart, and a countenance very different from the one he wore when he entered it. This little sketch has a moral which the sagacity of the reader will enable him very easily to understand.

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

Funeral Services of Geo. Griswold.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.

This morning the funeral services attendant upon the interment of the body of Mr. Geo. Griswold, took place in the Rev. Dr. Pott's church, corner of University Place and Tenth street. The body of the church was well filled by the friends and acquaintances of the deceased, and the services were very impressive. Shortly before the hour of ten, the intimate friends of the deceased assembled in the vestry, where were placed the remains of the deceased, in a beautiful coffin of St. Domingo mahogany, lined with lead and covered with black cloth, and ornamented with plate.

Later from Liberia.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9—3 P. M.

The bark J. W. Page, from Monrovia, Liberia, July 31st, furnishes some very interesting news and late papers from West Coast of Africa. The small-pox was raging extensively at Monrovia, and a large public health meeting had been held, in order to devise means to arrest its progress.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

New York Matters.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9—9 P. M.

This morning about 2 o'clock, the Harmonia Hotel, on Hudson street, kept by Boyes, was discovered to be on fire in the rear, over which was an elegant billiard saloon and a noble hall. Mr. B. and family had retired late, as there had been a concert and dance in the evening. After the flames, which had not reached the front part of the house, had been subdued, and time allowed to examine the hotel, the firemen were struck with horror in finding the dead bodies of Mr. B. and his three daughters, side by side.—Mrs. B., who now lies insensible, received injuries in jumping from the window on to the balcony. Her eldest daughter was caught in the arms of a Mr. Herring who had ascended a ladder to assist them to escape.

About half-past nine o'clock last evening a girl named Elizabeth Parnall, at No. 358 8th Avenue, was carrying a fluid lamp, when it exploded, burning her and her mother. She died during the night, and her mother cannot survive.

Military Encampment at Boston.

BOSTON, Sept. 9—9 P. M.

Major-General Wool arrived in camp Massachusetts last evening, where he was received by the Commander-in-Chief, and partook of a supper at head-quarters. A large number of distinguished guests were present, including many ladies. A monster concert of 18 bands of music, accompanied by artillery, took place in the evening. This morning both branches of the Legislature, escorted by the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Co., left for the camp. The grand review takes place to-day, and the tents will be struck at 3 P. M. to-morrow.

BOSTON, Sept. 9—9 P. M.

The encampment of military terminated to-day. The entire force was reviewed this P. M. by the Governor and Gen. Wool, in the presence of many guests.

From Buenos Ayres.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9—9 P. M.

By the arrival of the ship O. J. Payes, Capt. Shivewick, at this port, from Buenos Ayres, we have South American advices dated on the 10th of July. The first hostile shots had been exchanged between the authorities of the Argentine confederation and the officers of the State of Buenos Ayres.

Two Buenos Ayres war vessels removing from the city were fired into off Rosico, but sustained no damage. After passing, one of the vessels seized an Argentine war schooner and took from her a lot of war materials.

Gen. Urquiza arrived at Parana on the 26th of June, with 12,000 troops, but he was in bad health.

Rosico city was being put in a state of defense.

Fatal Accidents.

BRIDGEPORT, Sept. 9—9 P. M.

A man named E. Chapman, travelling with Nixon & Co.'s mammoth show, was accidentally shot this morning, while on the way from this city to Plymouth. Chapman belonged to Warehouse Point.

NORTH BRIDGEWATER, Sept. 9—9 P. M.

Mr. Henry Volney, of the firm of French & Howard, of this town, was killed this morning by jumping from a steamboat train while in motion. Mr. V. was shockingly mutilated. He leaves a wife and child who are now absent.

Illinois State Fair.

FREEPORT, Ill., Sept. 9—9 P. M.

The Fawkes Steam Plow will be tried by the Executive Committee for the last time to-morrow, when the awards will be made.—To-day it ran through muddy sloughs and drew wagon loads of people and a full band over a common road. The ladies of Freeport dressed it with flowers and ribbons, and speeches were made by Fawkes, his partner, Mr. Dickinson, Mr. Bross, of the Chicago Press, Ex-Governor Reynolds, Mr. Oliott, of the N. Y. Tribune, and Mr. Hodges of the plow committee.

An Awkward Political Record.

Mr. H. C. HOBART, nominee of the Sham Democracy for the office of Governor of Wisconsin, is presented to the suffrages of the People, on the "popular sovereignty, non-intervention" platform of Senator DOUGLAS. Mr. HOBART himself is, or was last winter, a zealous BUCHANAN man; but he is one of that tribe of politicians who trim their sails to meet the prevailing popular breeze, and are willing to take any tack, which promises to lead to a snug anchorage in office. We are forcibly reminded of this fact by an article in the Madison Journal, showing up Mr. HOBART's political antecedents. We quote a portion of the Journal article:

> In 1849, Mr. Hobart was a member of the Assembly. New Mexico and California were then asking to be organized into territories. Mr. Hobart then voted for a resolution instructing our Senators and requesting our Representatives in Congress "to vote for the incorporation of the Wilmot Proviso in such organic acts; that as the existence of slavery in the District of Columbia is a reproach to our Republican form of Government, if they act in accordance with the wishes of the people of the State of Wisconsin, they will, by their votes, aid in the passage of a law for the repeal of all laws sustaining slavery in the District of Columbia, and under no circumstances whatever, so far as their votes may bear upon the subject, should there be added to this Union any more slave states, or any states that can ever become slave states."
>
> Soon after, Senator Walker, of this State, offered and voted for an amendment to the general appropriation bill providing for a government in California and New Mexico, "which did not contain a provision forever prohibiting the introduction of slavery" therein. For this grievous offence against Democratic principles, Mr. Hobart advocated and voted for the passage of the following resolutions:
>
> Resolved, By the senate and assembly of the State of Wisconsin, That the course of the Hon. I. P. Walker, one of the Senators of this State, in the Congress of the United States, in presenting and voting for an amendment to the general appropriation bill, providing for a government in California and New Mexico, west of the Rio Grande, which did not contain a provision forever prohibiting the introduction of slavery or involuntary servitude in said territories has violated his oft-repeated as well as his solemn written pledge, given before his election, on that subject, and outraged the feelings and misrepresented those who elected him to that station, and has openly violated the instructions contained in the resolutions passed by this body on the subject of slavery; at its present session; therefore,
>
> Resolved, That Isaac P. Walker be, and he is instructed immediately to resign his seat in the Senate of the United States.—See Assembly Journal 1849, pp. 560—61.
>
> At the same session Mr. Hobart voted "to extend the right of voting to negroes" and to make them "eligible to hold any office in the State."
>
> These facts are from the official records of the State.

It is evident, from the above record, that in 1849 Mr. H. C. HOBART was just as good "a black Republican," as could be found.—He was for Equal Suffrage; he was for Congressional Intervention; he was for Excluding Slavery from all the Territories of the Republic; he was for the Wilmot Proviso; he was for censuring Senator WALKER, because that gentleman did not go for the "Ordinance of Freedom."

Such was the HARRISON C. HOBART of 1849. Where is the HARRISON C. HOBART of 1859? Why, he is opposed to equal suffrage; opposed to Congressional intervention; opposed to excluding Slavery from the Territories; opposed to the Wilmot Proviso; and quite satisfied with Mr. WALKER's course in the U. S. Senate. No doubt, Mr. HOBART is just as sincere in his opinions now, as he was in 1849, and just as much believed in the doctrines which he advocated in 1849, as he does now. In other words, Mr. HOBART has neither fixed principles, nor settled opinions; but is blown about by every wind of doctrine; an Abolitionist yesterday, a Republican to-day, and a Democrat to-morrow.

Just now, however, he shows his worst phase. He supports the Dred Scott decision; stands by the Fugitive Slave Law; believes in BUCHANAN and swears by Judge MILLER. After election, however, having been duly disciplined by the People—as in his present Doughface stage he deserves to be—we have no doubt that Mr. HOBART will discover the error of his ways, and gladly return to the good old Republican platform upon which he stood in 1849.

"WHO KILLED COCK ROBIN-SON?"—A correspondent of the Oconto Pioneer (neutral) writing from this city under date of August 29th, thus answers the question of his own asking:

> The Forty were gathered at Madison, the groggery doors were opened in the street, and the sound of the ax grinders was low. Charley Robinson was murdered and rammed down the remorseless slough of Barstowism. He was the only man before the late convention who had any strength with the voters, outside of his party. His friends did not come from packed conventions, nor with dull axes to be ground. The people demanded his nomination. But the wishes of voters are nothing to Pratt, Proudfit, Cross, Sanders, Sharpstein and the rest. "I can forgive all my enemies but Charley Robinson," said the brassy old tyrant of Waukesha—"but by ——— he shall never be nominated while I live!"

FARRAR, of the Washington County Democrat, who is good authority for the sayings and doings of the Democratic State Convention, makes the following positive argument:

> We understand that Mr. Barstow stated in the late Democratic State Convention that if Col. Robinson got the nomination for Governor, he (Barstow) and his friends would "spot him."
>
> We are perfectly satisfied with our candidate for Governor, Mr. Hobart, and confidently look for his election, but when any man, and especially such a man as Bill Barstow, states in Convention that he will "spot" a man, if nominated, out of mere personal spite and hatred, and the Convention drops that man by reason of said threat, then the name Democratic becomes a misnomer.

The News, the organ of "the Forty" charges its Washington County yoke-fellow with "unblushing mendacity," for making this statement, and with refreshing coolness adds, that "Gov. BARSTOW brought up to the Convention a united delegation from his own county in favor of Col. ROBINSON!" That is rich.

Two days ago, the News stated that Gov. BARSTOW was not a member of the Convention, and intimated that he had very little to do with its action. Yesterday, the News discovered that Gov. BARSTOW attended the Convention, bringing up "a united delegation" with him, and laboring hard to nominate Colonel ROBINSON! Such heavy drafts upon the credulity of the News' readers must speedily exhaust their stock.

OVER NIAGARA FALLS.—There were only two men, and not two men and a woman in the boat that went over Niagara Falls last Thursday. The men were named JOHNSON and YOUNG, and both lived on Grand Island. It seems that they had been to Chippewa in a sail boat, and before starting on their return, became considerably intoxicated. When in the river, the sail jibed, being struck with a gust of wind, and the boat was upset. They both managed to get hold of the boat, and in his way floated over the Falls.

First Gun for the Fall Campaign.

VERMONT opens the ball of the Fall campaign in the most spirited style. The Republican majority there, last year, was large enough in all conscience, but it is still larger now. Of the popular vote the Republicans have over two to one, and five-sixths of the Legislature. The defeat of the Administration is overwhelming.

The Vermont democracy confidently expected to make a break, this year, by trying the popular sovereignty dodge, nominating the poet-editor, SAXE, for Governor, and declaring for DOUGLAS. But on these issues they have been worse beaten that at any previous State election. Sham Democracy cannot flourish in the free air of the Green Mountains, or among the descendants of MOLLY STARK.

One of the Forgeries.

The News, of yesterday, publishes the following "roorback":

> Wm. Dennison, the republican nominee for Governor of Ohio, said, at an encampment at Middletown, in that State, a few weeks ago:
>
> If I am elected Governor of Ohio—and I expect to be—I will not let any fugitive be returned to Kentucky, or any other slave State, and if I cannot prevent it in any other way, as Commander-in-Chief of the military of the State, I will employ the bayonet, so help me God!
>
> Law abiding citizen, Mr. Dennison; Ohio and South Carolina better have a set-to. They're a noble pair.

Mr. DENNISON, more than a week ago, at an immense Republican gathering on the Western Reserve, pronounced the above a lie out of whole cloth. He said that he had never uttered such language, nor entertained such sentiments, and that the editor who first published the statement knew it to be a lie when he did so. The News must be hard up for copy, when it gives currency to such transparent fabrications.

DOUGLAS IN KENTUCKY.—The Louisville Courier, the principal democratic organ in Kentucky, thus descants on the last manifesto of Mr. DOUGLAS:

> "It has fallen upon his apologists in the South like a 'clap of thunder on a cloudless day.' They had almost succeeded, as they thought, in convincing the people of the South that Douglas was the only man who could be elected, and, by shrewdness and sophistry, had explained away some of the many objections to his Freeport speech. But all their work has been in vain. Judge Douglas has forever spoiled all their calculations, sophistries and arguments. He is further off now from true Democracy than he has ever yet been. His anti-Lecomptonism was bad, his Freeport speech was worse; but his 'copy-righted' Squatter Sovereignty essay in Harper's is worst of all. In his eagerness to conciliate Northern Abolitionists, Judge Douglas has cut himself completely loose from the Democracy of the South.—We hope never again to hear his name mentioned in connection with the Charleston nomination. It is madness and folly to think of his getting a nomination for the Presidency from the Democratic party. He must look somewhere else, and probably he will."

THE "MUD-SILLS OF SOCIETY."—Senator IVERSON, of Georgia, one of the Democratic leaders in the U. S. Senate, thus talks about the Free Laborers of the North:

> "The proud and enviable condition of the poor white man in the South, compared to the degraded white slave of the North, is owing to the existence of African slavery in the South. If the question of emancipating the negroes were to-day submitted to the people of Georgia, nine out of ten who own no slaves would vote in the negative. Slavery must be maintained—in the Union if possible—out of it if necessary—peaceably if we may—forcibly if we must. He was once an advocate of Squatter Sovereignty, but had repented of and recanted the error. Subsequent investigation had convinced him that the true theory in relation to the territorial Government of the Union is that it is both the power and duty of Congress to pass for the protection of Slavery wherever it exists, or may exist, upon the soil."

The Disappearance of Mr. Patton from Lafayette, Ind., Explained—He Elopes with his First Love.

An extra from the office of the Lafayette Courier, gives the following in regard to the recent disappearance from that city of one of its prominent citizens:

LAFAYETTE, Sept. 5.—The remarkable disappearance of Mr. Patton, a leading hardware dealer of this city, has been the subject of extended comment in these columns, and wherever Mr. P. was known has excited the liveliest apprehension as to his fate.

On the 8th day of last month he left this city, ostensibly upon a short tour of recreation, accompanied by his little son, a child scarce five years of age. He took as was supposed, but a small amount of money—barely sufficient to defray his expenses to Chicago and return, but one change of linen, and, strange to say, was urgent in pressing upon his wife to accompany him. She declined to go, however, and expressing his regret, he took his departure. His return by the next train was confidently expected by his family and friends. Their agonizing suspense as days and weeks elapsed, may be imagined.

The seeming purity of his private life, his position as a leading member of the Methodist Church, the seeming felicity of his domestic relations—every circumstance in fact, combined to preclude any solution of his absence, save upon the supposition that he had met with foul play. We are pained to say that subsequent developments—the result of a thorough investigation into all the circumstances attending his disappearance, reveal the fact that he has eloped with Miss Adeline Potts, a young lady who formerly resided near Dayton, in this county, and to whom he was at one time engaged. It seems that they had been children together—became lovers, and were to have been married on a certain day. A brother, residing near Crawfordsville, opposed the match, and intercepted their correspondence. A misunderstanding and an estrangement ensued. At this juncture he commenced paying his attentions to a highly respectable young lady of this city, and piqued by the seeming coldness of Miss Potts, married her after a brief courtship. The interference of the brother, the intercepted letters, and the consequent misunderstanding and estrangement, were subsequently explained; and, as the story goes, Mr. Patton was heard to lament his ill-advised haste in the most unmeasured terms, protesting his "undying love" for Miss Potts, and begging the privilege of retaining a portion of their correspondence as a souvenir of the past.

Since this period, which was sometime in February, '52, Miss Potts has resided in Illinois and Wisconsin, with the exception of a few weeks, which she spent on a visit to this city in '55. During this visit Mr. P. paid her some attention, but nothing occurred to occasion any remark. It is now revealed, however, that a regular correspondence has been kept up with her since his marriage. A brother-in-law, with whom she resided at Janesville, Wis., discovered the correspondence about 19 months since, and made an unsuccessful effort to have it discontinued.

Mr. Patton, as we have before stated, left this city on Monday afternoon, August 8th, arriving at Chicago about 9 o'clock on the evening of the same day. Early the next morning, he went to the telegraph office and sent a despatch to Miss Potts at Janesville, as follows:

CHICAGO, Aug. 9 h—A. M.
"Meet me at Beloit." HARDING.

The despatch reached Miss Potts at an early hour, and informing her friends that she was expected to officiate as bridesmaid at the wedding of a friend, in Beloit, that day, left for Beloit by the first train. Patton had preceded her, and had engaged rooms at the hotel, registering himself and child as J. W. Harding and Son, and informing the landlord that he was expecting the arrival of his wife. They occupied the same room that night.

The next day she returned to Janesville, and informing her friends that she was going on a short visit to Richland county, packed her entire wardrobe, and left the same evening. Patton doubtless joined her again at some of the way stations between Janesville and Beloit. Here all trace of the guilty couple is lost. It is the general supposition that they went to New York and sailed for California.

Miss Potts is known to have had a considerable sum of money, and it is not probable that Mr. Patton was as short of funds as was at first supposed.

Mrs. Patton, whose case excites the most heartfelt sympathy in the entire community, has filed her application for divorce and alimony, on the ground of adultery and abandonment.

DEATH OF GEORGE GRISWOLD.—We deeply regret to announce the death of George Griswold, Esq. Mr. Griswold died yesterday afternoon, at the residence of his son-in-law, John C. Green, Esq., at New Brighton, Staten Island. Mr. Griswold was in the 83d year of his age and was the oldest merchant in the city, having commenced business in 1794, with his brother, the firm being N. L. & G. Griswold. Mr. Nathaniel Griswold died some years ago, since which time Mr. George Griswold has been the head of the mercantile firm, and he continued in active business until within a few days of his death. Ranked by our merchants and bankers among the first of their number, honored and venerated by them, and by all classes of our citizens, our whole community will mourn in his death, the loss of an upright merchant and a christian man.—N. Y. Courier, Sept. 6.

An Interesting Article.

From the N. Y. Courier and Enquirer.

GOLD AND SILVER AND FREE TRADE.—It is now ten years since the discovery of gold in California, and eight years since the gold mines of Australia were first developed.

Since those periods the amount of gold produced by those countries may be estimated at over 858 millions of dollars, viz:

Year.	California.	Australia.	Total.
1849	5,413,000	....	5,413,000
1850	30,443,000	....	30,443,000
1851	46,510,000	....	46,510,000
1852	54,210,000	71,350,000	125,514,000
1853	53,135,000	57,900,000	111,035,000
1854	50,025,000	45,500,000	95,525,000
1855	45,557,000	59,500,000	107,057,000
1856	55,065,000	79,600,000	134,255,000
1857	54,436,000	52,100,000	106,536,000
1858	54,254,000	53,022,000	177,246,000
Total	$448,000,000	$410,022,000	$858,022,000

We add 10 per cent. to the export of California to the end of 1856, and 20 per cent. for the years 1857, 1858, to indicate the production.

Notwithstanding this enormous accumulation of gold within so short a period, the policy of our government and of the States has caused an exhaustation of at least two-thirds—the actual foreign export beyond import, having been in ten years $305,000,000; when a due regard to the great interests of the country would have led to the detention of at least one-half of this vast capital within our limits.

Capital is the essential element in the support of agriculture, manufactures and commerce; yet every successive year witnesses the outlay of fifty to eighty millions of dollars in the support of foreign labor instead of the permanent encouragement of domestic industry.

It is true that a substitute, a fictitious substitute, has been created in place of the bona fide and solid capital exhumed from the bowels of the earth. This fiction is in the shape of "paper money," a creation intended to represent gold and silver, and to economize labor in the exchange of payments. For this purpose, paper money is an admirable equivalent, both for governmental and individual uses, provided the representative and the constituent are allowed to co-exist and to sustain each other. Paper money is, too, a desirable agent even beyond the basis of representation, provided it is not created beyond the bounds of produce. Gold and silver form the foundation, while paper may be styled the superstructure, depending solely upon the former for its support; but remove the foundation by an unwise or unsound State policy, and the whole structure necessarily falls.

Now the crying want of the country has been from its birth, Capital. Every day demonstrates the urgent need of Capital, in every State of the Union, in every city, village and farm of every State. Capital is needed as well in the prairies of Illinois, as in the mines of Lake Superior, the wheat fields of Ohio, &c., the manufactory of the Eastern States, the cotton fields of the South, the coal fields of the Schuylkill, the forges, rolling mills and furnaces of our own State—the Ship-Yards of our own Port.

We need not, however, go beyond Wall street to prove this urgent demand. We had on this island alone, (according to the last Census) sixty-nine thousand laborers, men, women and children, engaged in manufacturing alone, and in the State at large two hundred and fourteen thousand—besides the thousands engaged in manual labor throughout the streets and warehouses.

In the three hundred and fifty separate branches of manufactures, enumerated in the Census, not one can be found that is not in urgent need of capital to prosecute the business. They are paying 7, 8, 10, or 15 per cent for the use of money in moderate sums, when fifty millions or more might be retained annually, in the country, that would encourage the home manufacturer and aid the home market for agricultural produce.

The annual product of Gold and Silver throughout the world we estimated recently at $175,000,000. The estimate was pronounced extravagant; but from recent official data it would appear that we under-rated the production. The new edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica, to which Mr. McCulloch has contributed an elaborate paper, on Gold and Silver, (now in press for the Bankers Magazine,) in which he shows the supply to be over thirty-nine millions sterling; equivalent at five dollars per pound, to nearly two hundred millions of dollars, viz:

America (excluding California)		$15,000,000
California	£14,000,000	70,000,000
Australia	11,000,000	55,000,000
Asiatic Russia	3,500,000	17,500,000
Europe	1,500,000	7,500,000
Total		195,250,000

Even this estimate we consider too low. Baron Humboldt in his last Essay on Gold and Silver, (1848-49) placed the production of Russian Siberian Mines alone at over twenty-two millions of dollars: and there are numerous producing countries on a small scale where the supply has hitherto been scarcely alluded to. If we add Africa and Asia, &c., the amount will exceed 206 millions.

What becomes of this vast accumulation of gold and silver?

By the fallacious policy adopted by our own people, our portion of this production, instead of being used at home to encourage domestic industry, is sent abroad, where it is virtually dead to us. We have already shipped from two Ports only during the present calendar year to Europe (eight months only), FIFTY-TWO millions of dollars, equivalent to more than ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY TONS of gold. The freight alone of this vast sum exceeds sixty thousand dollars.

The total export for the calendar year 1852, including the foreign export from San Francisco, will no doubt exceed seventy millions of dollars, which is about the entire domestic produce of gold and silver. We shall therefore start on the first of January next with about the same stock of corn and bullion that we had at the opening of the year.

One-half of this sum, retained annually in our own country, would, in a few years, enable us to construct a railroad to California, and the money would remain among the people as a compensation for labor and materials on such a road. Various other improvements, of a national character, might be made with a very small per centage of this enormous outlay now expended for foreign silks, sugars, trinkets, &c.

A trifling sum would place on a permanent basis the ingress and egress of ships at the mouth of the Mississippi. Here millions of dollars are annually lost for the want of an adequate protection. The harbor of New York might with a small outlay be made equal to that of our sister city, Portland, and we might offer, for all time to come, a safe passport to the Great Eastern which we cannot now do.

The overslough of the Hudson, which causes annually, large losses to the merchants of the East and West, might be extinguished with a little outlay of this surplus gold which we now dispense by millions to foreign countries. Other objects of national importance might be gained by a considerate outlay of capital.

What remedies are suggested for this impoverishment which now take place by means of our foreign trade?

In the first place confine the Bank currency to such limits as shall utterly obviate in all time to come a recurrence of the disgraceful financial schemes which marked the year 1857. The revulsion of 1857 has been traced directly and remotely to the banking system of various States; but with this positive knowledge of such circumstances of cause and effect, no additional restraints had been created. The wildness, the mania, the cupidity, which marked the year 1857 are not yet rebuked.

Secondly, we are advised to adopt a foreign policy upon a par with other nations with whom we have daily intercourse.

Spain, by her West Indies, supplies us with thirty to forty-two millions worth of Sugar annually, on which we levy a duty of twenty-four per cent. We send to Cuba from 2,000 to 8,000 barrels of flour annually, on which nine and a-half dollars per barrel (or 200 per cent.) are levied.

England, under the fiction of 'Free Trade,' levies an import duty of twenty-two or twenty-three millions of dollars annually on one article of American produce (Tobacco), while France prohibits its general import entirely. If these restrictions were removed, our foreign export of tobacco, which for ten years has been twelve millions of dollars annually, might be made four or five fold.

England levies duties on foreign imports only annually to the amount of twenty-three millions sterling (110 millions dollars) under FREE TRADE POLICY, with a population no larger than that of the United States.—England has in fifty years grown rich upon this so-called liberal policy. France has reaped hundreds of millions upon the comparatively prohibitory duties on American tobacco. Spain partially sustains her expensive Government with an equally liberal policy. France levies fifty-five millions of francs annually in the shape of Custom-house duties on Tobacco alone, the aggregate for forty-two years having been 2,328 millions of francs, or about FOUR HUNDRED AND FORTY-TWO MILLIONS OF DOLLARS.

Shall we continue to follow for five years more the commercial policy of 1859, and send abroad three hundred millions of dollars to pay for Iron, Woolens, Sugars, &c? Shall we import at New York city alone during the next four years (as in the last four years), dry goods to the Custom House value of three hundred millions of dollars, and the market value of 350 millions?

Shall we continue to import annually at New York city (as in the depressed years 1857-58) eighty millions of free goods, and two hundred millions of dutiable goods?—Should we in 1860-64 pursue the policy marked out for us, and pursued by us in 1854-1857 (and still in force) and be disgraced again by general bankruptcy? Shall the so-called free trade of Western Europe still continue to exhaust us of seventy millions of solid gold and silver, and we continue to say, IT IS ALL RIGHT?

The Productive Power of the Country.

If a man had commenced to measure grain fifteen hundred years before the making of Adam and had worked constantly until this time, measuring a bushel a minute and working ten hours a day, he would only have measured the grain production of this country for the present year. If, on the other hand, the product of grain of this country for two years were piled into a column of cubic feet, it would reach to the moon. Again, if we subdivide our grain product of one year into grains we would have 750,000,000,000,000—a number too great for the mind to comprehend, but seemingly only sufficient for our well fed people. So much for the figures of our grain product!

What becomes of it, what a myriad of people does it feed, and what an endless source of wealth should this productive power be to us, are thoughts which naturally follow such calculations. We do not in this estimate of our productive power include the cotton crop, out of which we so kindly let Great Britain make millions of pounds sterling. Nor do we count the hay crop, really the most important of all our crops, and upon which depends our own daily life.—We are only looking upon our country as a granary.

If we attempt to give approximately the figures for all our staple crops, we go even beyond the first strange calculations. The hay and wheat crops of the present year are well known, the corn crop is sufficiently matured to form a tolerably correct estimate of it, and the same with the cotton crop. The production of the other staples are taken from the last Patent Office returns, etc., allowing for a fair increase. We have then the amount and value of the Agricultural products for the present year nearly as follows:

Products.	Bushels.	Value.
Corn	75,000,000	$450,000,000
Hay, (tons)	25,000,000	200,000,000
Wheat	205,000,000	225,500,000
Cotton, (bales)	3,800,000	190,000,000
Potatoes	110,500,000	60,000,000
Oats	160,000,000	64,000,000
Sugar, (lbs)	700,000,000	40,000,000
Tobacco		30,500,000
Other products		250,000,000
		$1,600,500,000

If to these we add the Coal and Gold crops, both of which seem to be classed among manufactured products, we would have nearly seventeen hundred millions of dollars, or nearly sixty dollars for each inhabitant of the whole country, coming to us yearly from the bounty of mother earth.

Can it be equalled even by fertile Egypt or by grain-growing Russia? Probably not by both put together. The figures themselves add to our pride, and give us an idea of a never before known power and strength; and yet we have another purpose in their showing than to increase these. We have some queries to put, namely: Are we or others growing rich by our labor? Should not the fact that Great Britain makes twice as much out of our cotton crops as we do, make us consider before feeling assured that we are working for ourselves? In our blind belief of superiority and great progress have we not willingly, but by foreign seductions, shackled ourselves with bonds which make us 'hewers of wood and drawers of water' for half of Europe? Let us consider this, not forgetting, however, that the strength which makes us valuable as a servant could make us independent if rightly exerted.

A bushel of grain costs more to transport it from the center of production in this country to Europe than to produce it. We have, except in the present year, for the past five or six years, sent abroad annually about twenty millions of bushels. Who pays for its transportation? Most certainly if we had a home market we would not. Let the cost fall where it will, it is a losing trade. We are fast carrying the best of our virgin soil out of the country at the bare cost of production. Our farmers complain often of the "rust" in their golden fields of grain. They need to fear more the rust that has crept into the theories of their political economy. The "tares" in their wheat do not the harm that the tares sown by a foreign manufacturing interest to the prejudice of home labor. Nor has all the "cheat" in this country's grain done as much damage as the cheat Free Trade. There may be nothing in some names, but the name of "Free Trade" has upheld a doctrine of foreign protection and home servitude, which otherwise would have had a short life in this country.

Both sides of the picture, however, are not alike, and notwithstanding the faults of our Commercial policy by which we are now heavily in debt, we have prosperity in the future apparently at our command. We have shown that the Agricultural products of the country are about sixty dollars for each person, including only the staples which enter into domestic trade. The New York State Census shows the manufacture of this State to be one hundred and six dollars for each person, and in this estimate many small articles of domestic manufacture, which have a large aggregate, are necessarily left out. If then we take the total manufacturing power of the country to be equal to that of this State, by the above partial estimate, we should have the total productive and manufacturing power of the country, including only articles which enter into trade, at five thousand millions of dollars, or one hundred and sixty-six dollars for each person.

We have here, then, a basis for domestic trade in comparison with which, the foreign trade of the country, about ten or twelve dollars in exports for each person, sinks into insignificance; and when we compare it to the export trade of Breadstuffs, the relations are as one to two hundred and fifty. What we want, however, to derive full advantage from our great resources, is a commercial policy which will enable us to bring the producer and manufacturer together, and thus be in a situation to export, (for export we always will, and to a willing market) manufactures, and not the gross materials. Great Britain, out of our cotton crop, exports annually two hundred and fifteen millions of dollars in cotton manufactures, which is at least fifteen millions of dollars more than we ever received for our entire cotton crop; added to this, Great Britain clothed thirty millions of people as an extra profit. Who will then compare the profits of raising the raw material and of manufacturing? Great Britain does not receive at home and abroad less than five hundred millions of dollars from her cotton manufactures, whereas our total receipts from the raw material and its manufactures together are not one-half of that sum. In giving arguments for the country we speak too for New York City. As the distributing point for a manufacturing as well as an agricultural country, New York would attain a prosperity never before known by any city, and before only to be found in the dreams of an enthusiast.—N. Y. Courier and Enquirer, Sept. 5.

THE PURE WINES OF HUNGARY.
STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE, 32 Somerset St.,
BOSTON, July 1st, 1858.
Messrs. FREUND & GROSSINGER,—
Gentlemen:—I received from you eight samples of Red and White Hungarian Wines, which, at your request, I have submitted to chemical analysis. I send you the details with this letter.
From my researches it appears that these Wines are pure, and they contain nothing but the products of the grape. I can confidently recommend them to the public as good and pure wines, and as not so likely to become sour as the light wines of France.
I exposed my samples forty-eight hours to the air, in a warm room, without any souring having taken place.
The general character of the red Hungarian Wines is that of the Red Burgundy of France, and the White Wines (with the exception of the sweet or dessert wines) are between Hock and Sauterne, but somewhat stronger than either of these.
I am satisfied that, when known to the public, the Hungarian Wines will be greatly in favor, and that they will be much sought for.
Respectfully, your obedient servant,

BEAUTIFUL HYMN.

On the occasion of dedicating the new rural cemetery, at Rose Hill, near Chicago, the following original hymn was sung:

Deep 'mid these dim and silent shades
The slumbering dead shall lie,
Tranquil, as summer evening fades
Along the western sky.

The whispering winds shall linger here
To lull their deep repose;
Like music on the dewy air,
Like night-fall on the rose.

Light through the twining bows shall shed
Its calm and cheerful ray;
As hopes spring from the dying bed,
And point to perfect day.

Around each funeral urn shall cling
The fairest, freshest flowers;
Emblem of heaven's eternal spring,
And brighter lands than ours.

Gathered from thousand homes, the dust
In soft repose shall lie,
Like garnered seed, in holy trust
For immortality.

Room for the households! till the morn
Its glories shall restore,
And on the silent sleepers dawn
The day that fades no more.

Telegraphing by the Aurora.

At four o'clock this A. M., when most of the good people of this burg were quietly snoozing in their beds, there was visible in the heavens another of these beautiful and luminous celestial displays known as Northern Lights. The Aurora was at times quite as brilliant as its predecessor on Sunday night, and its influence continued to be felt over all the telegraphic lines north and east, and diminishing west of us, until 9 o'clock A. M. The usual electrical phenomena and disturbances which generally attend the Aurora accompanied the one of this morning.—At times a current of electricity was driven along the wires, completely neutralizing the batteries, and making the magnets seem as if the wires were broken, while instantaneously another current, reverse of the former, swept through the telegraphic instruments in the office, and charged the magnets to their fullest capacity.

We allude, however, to the brilliant electrical display of this morning for the purpose of calling attention to a very interesting experiment—the first of its kind on record—performed by Mr. Culgan, the skillful and accomplished manager of the Pittsburgh Telegraph office. This gentleman has entirely succeeded in talking over the wires without the media of stationary batteries, but by means simply of the electrical current induced by the Aurora Borealis. Mr. Culgan, having for some time been embarrassed in his operations by the eccentric Auroral currents, and having attentively recorded the nimble but capricious manœuverings of the subtle stranger, "called" Philadelphia, who—meaning the operator there—was endeavoring, but with poor success, to receive and record a message from New York.

After getting the attention of Philadelphia, the battery at Pittsburgh was reversed, and although the one at Philadelphia remained unchanged, and a heavy extraneous current pervaded the whole line, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh were in full communication with each other, and by a way which, in the normal condition of the wires, and were there no foreign and unusual influences at work, would, of course, have been absolutely impossible. This telegraphic communication was practicable but for a few moments at a time, for this extraneous auroral current, being very capricious and changing at frequent intervals, rendered the alteration in the poles of the battery neccessary to keep up the communication.

Finally, in order to test the important fact just discovered still further and more conclusively, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia cut off altogether the galvanic batteries, which are invariably and necessarily employed in the transmission of despatches, and worked their instruments exclusively by means of the Auroral electricity, which, while it continued, was exactly similar in its effects, though differing in kind, to that generated in telegraphic batteries—or, what is known as the common atmospheric electricity. The flow of Auroral electricity, as Mr. Culgan informs us, was steady and regular. A couple of messages were transmitted while the wires were under this extraordinary influence, and at intervals a lively chat was kept up by this same medium between the two operators at Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, expressive of the novelty of this new method of overcoming, in a great measure, the embarrassing effects of the Aurora Borealis on telegraph wires.

This, it is belived, is the first and only instance on record where the Aurora itself—beautiful, glorious, and mysterious as it has always been considered in its brilliant manifestations—has actually been harnessed up, and compelled to do the errands of man.—And thus it is that science is ever achieving fresh and important triumphs over nature; and those phenomena which in former times—when the laws, general and particular, that govern our earth were comparatively unknown—were the objects of dread or of direful omen, are now noted with interest, recorded with precision, and utilized and employed so as to render glory to God and to do the bidding of man.—Pittsburg Gazette, Sept. 3.

The Aurora South.

An extraordinary phenomenon, of the celestial kind, presented itself to this city and the surrounding country on Sunday evening at about 8 1-2 o'clock.

The northern part of the firmament, from north-east to north-west, and from the horizon nearly to the zenith, became overspread with a clear red light, through which the stars twinkled as merrily as from their accustomed blue. At intervals, diverging rays of white and yellow light stole softly across the red, and as softly retired. The spectacle lasted about half an hour, and was witnessed and admired and wondered at by thousands of the population.

It had the appearance in all respects of an Aurora Borealis, the accustomed harbinger of cold weather, so frequently seen toward Winter in the more northern latitudes, and we are satisfied that it was one. But the sight of such a phenomenon as far south as New Orleans, and in the scorching month of August too, was something well calculated to shake the public faith in its identity, and to start all possible suggestions which might connect it with some neighboring terrestial cause. Such suggestions, however, were at fault. No steamboat burning on the lake, no possible terrestial blazes, could have produced any such an opaque, wide-spread, claret-colored light, with its glowing rays of white and yellow. With many it was made a matter of joke, and with the ignorant and superstitious it created no little alarm.

As for us, though we were not much frightened, we felt somewhat like the Tennessee farmer, who was nearly frightened to death by the great meteoric shower of twenty-six or twenty-seven years ago. He ran out of his house, saw the general celestial display of fire-works, and fell fainting over a fence. Reviving after a little, he raised his head, and saw a neighbor standing and very coolly surveying the sight, with his pipe in his mouth. "For God's sake, John," he gasped, "tell me what this is—the world ain't coming to an end, is it?" John laughed, and said, "No; I don't feel as if the world was coming to an end." "Then what is this? what does all this mean?" "It is a phenomenon," responded John, puffing away at his pipe.—"Oh, a funnomenon!" exclaimed the frightened man, coming to his breath again. "As long as the darn'd thing's got a name, I s'pose its all right!" with which he went back satisfied to his bed.

Seriously, we are certain, from our own observation, that the phenomenon of Sunday night was an Aurora Borealis; though the old folks say, forcibly enough, such a thing was never seen in this latitude.—N. O. Crescent, Aug. 30th.

The best proof as to how Dr. C.'s services are appreciated is, that he is daily receiving new patients from all parts of the country, and dismissing, as cured, his early received cases.

No FEE is required for an examination or opinion. No CHARGE for services that are NOT SUCCESSFUL, as will be stated when the patient is received. Dr. Caldwell's TREATISE ON THE EYE AND EAR to be had GRATIS on application as bove.

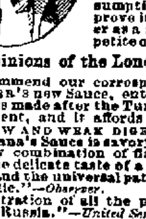
SOYER'S SULTANA SAUCE.

For Hot or Cold Dishes of all Kinds.



THIS MOST DELICIOUS and appetising Sauce was invented by the renowned "SOYER," on his return from the Crimea, and since his decease is manufactured by CROSSE & BLACKWELL, London, from the original recipe. The manufacturers simply ask for it a trial, convinced that it must add to the already large consumption, and that it will prove itself unequaled, either as a stimulant to the appetite or an aid to digestion.

Opinions of the London Press

"We recommend our correspondent to try MONSIEUR SOYER'S new Sauce, entitled the 'Sultana's Sauce.' It is made after the Turkish recipe: its flavor is excellent, and it affords considerable aid in cases of SLOW AND WEAK DIGESTION.—The Lancet.

"The Sultana's Sauce is savory, piquant, and spicy; a happy combination of flavors and essences worthy of the delicate taste of a Sultana, the genius of a Soyer, and the universal patronage of a discriminating Public."—Observer.

"A concentration of all the piquant resources of Turkey and Russia."—United Service Gazette.

"As a titillater of the appetite this Sauce stands alone. It is a most valuable adjunct to Fish, Flesh, or Fowl, and should be placed on every dinner table."—Atlas.

"The Sultana sauce is a most delicious zest."—Morn Chronicle.

STOMACH OR LIVER,

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Apetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Blind and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave. Its reputation at home produced its introduction here, the demand commencing with those of the Fatherland scattered over the face of this mighty country, many of whom brought with them and handed down the tradition of its value. It is now offered to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recomended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in affect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit an infusing new health and vigor in the system.

READ CAREFULLY! The genuine highly concentrated Boerhave's Holland Bitters is put up in half-pint bottles only, and retailed at ONE DOLLAR per bottle. The great demand for this truly wonderful Medicine has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing.

Beware of imposition! See that our name is on the label of every bottle before you buy.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE RICHEST DIADEM

EVER

Worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE IT IS THE ORNAMENT GOD Himself provided for our race. Readers, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled or shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than one half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

DR. WOOD:— New York, April 19, 1858.

Dear Sir—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your "Hair Restorative" it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable.

I am, dear sir, yours truly,
S. THALBERG.

"Drych a'r Gwyliedydd."
Welsh Newspaper office, 13 Nassau st.,
April 12, 1858.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown, at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

New York, July 25, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative, as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It has also relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who prespire freely.

J. G. KILBY.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up, grow out, and turn back to its former color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all.

Chicago, Ill., May 1, 1857. J. D. HOES.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium and small, the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large hold a quart, forty per cent more in proportion and retails for $3,00 a bottle.

Money Matters.

The money market has not experienced any noticeable change since the beginning of the week. Exchange on New York continues steady at 1¼ prem. Money, not abundant, but easily obtainable on good business paper.

At Chicago, exchange is a shade firmer, but not higher, selling at the banks at 1 ℘ cent, and on the street at ¾ ℘ cent.

The wheat market was very active to-day, and in the face of the largest receipts of the season, and higher freights, No. 1 spring advanced ½ to 1c, ruling at 73 and 74c on the track and in store. Extra club was firmer, but did not go beyond 78c delivered at the mills. The total sales, we are confident, considerably exceed 20,000 bus, but being all in small lots of 300 to 1,000 bus not more than half of them were reported. In flour, we note more activity, sales reaching 1,270 bbls, at $3,50 to $4,12½ for common to prime country spring extra, and $4,25 for city spring extra f. o. b. The improvement in prices does not seem to attract much oats to market, and the scarcity previously noticed still continues, buyers eager to take all offering at 30c. Barley is in better demand, No. 1 bringing 55. Corn is scarce and readily sells at 63c. Eggs higher. Hides steady. Highwines firm at 25c.

To other countries	7,650,342
Total	16,778,119

The foregoing table exhibits the exports of wheat and wheat flour from this country during a period of ten years. It also tells us, if it is correct, where our wheat goes—that there is nearly as much exported to "other countries"—the British Colonies, West Indies, and South America—as to England, which is regarded as the market for our produce, and which certainly does influence our market largely. The N. Y. Herald, from which we clip the above table, gives it in proof of the assertion that "the quantity of wheat exported from this country is only about one-tenth the total product, and the farmer might dispense altogether with the foreign market without making a great sacrifice."

CHICAGO, SEPT. 9.—Receipts: 3,204 bbls flour, 54,164 bus wheat, 13,948 bus corn, 11,825 bus oats, 130 bus barley.

The wheat market opened firm with an upward tendency, under a good demand to fill Eastern orders; but owing to an advance in the rates of freights, the buoyancy was checked, and prices at the close were a shade lower. Winter grades were quiet and unchanged.—About 50,000 bushels of all grades changed hands, at $1,04 for No. 1 white; 90 for No. 1 Red; 76c for No. 2 red; 74@74½c for No. 1 Spring; 71@72c for No. 2 Spring; 68 for rejected Spring; and 65 for rejected winter. Flour continues active and steady, with a demand for Spring Extras fully equal to the supply. Winter extras remain dull. About 1,100 bbls were sold at 3,90@4,00 for Spring brands and $4,60 for red winter brands. Corn was quiet but firm. About 12,000 bushels changed hands at 64c for Canal free on board; 61½@62c for No. 1 in store; and 51½c for No. 2 in store. Oats were firmer, and an advance of ½c was paid for receipts in lower ware-houses. About 4,000 bushels were sold at 24½@25c in store. Rye, 56 in store, and 56@57c on track. Barley inactive. Timothy Seed less active. Prime parcels, ready for shipment, were sold at $2,00; but outside lots were sold at $1,95. Highwines quiet and nominal. Provisions inactive. A lot of Bulk Shoulders were sold at 5¾c. Lard 11c, with a very light stock. Prime Country Tallow, 10¼c. Hides firmer, and a shade better. Freights advanced 1c—vessels being engaged to-day at 5c for wheat to Buffalo.

GOT OFF.—We learn that the Oswego, Capt. Kimball, has succeeded in getting off the schr. Alvin Bronson, reported ashore at the "Hen and Chickens," and has towed her to this port for repairs. Her cargo, which consisted of 12,000 bushels of wheat, is, with the exception of three or four thousand bushels, damaged and rendered valueless, except for distilling purposes. She had six feet of water in her hold, and was lying in seven feet only. The damage to the vessel will probably not exceed $500.
